

TWO HANGINGS
FOR ONE CRIMERufus Johnson and George
Small Executed Today
IN NEW JERSEY PRISON.Both Were Found Guilty of the Crime of Foully Murdering Florence W.
Allison at Moorestown, N. J.,
a Few Weeks Ago.

Mount Holly, N. J., March 24.—Rufus Johnson and George Small were hanged at 10:10 this morning at Burlington county prison, for the murder of Miss Florence W. Allison at Moorestown.

Both men were negroes. They met their fate bravely. They were executed simultaneously swinging from the same beam, through two traps in the platform. There were no unusual scenes on the gallows. Death followed quickly after the trap was sprung.

The murder of the Allison woman stirred up the people of Moorestown very greatly. Her body was discovered in the stable connected with her place of residence, her life having been taken by means of strangulation. Suspicion pointed to Johnson. He was arrested, tried and convicted in record-breaking time, and was sentenced to be hanged. A short time before the sentence was to be executed, Small came forward and confessed that he committed the crime. He was then tried and found guilty also, and sentenced to be hanged, both the men paying the penalty today.

MANIAC'S TERRIBLE DEED.

He Shot Nine People at Relative's
Funeral.

Baltimore, Md., 24.—Brooklyn, just across the Patuxent river from here, is horrified over the deeds and death of Walter Potee, an insane man 25 years old, who at the funeral of his brother's child, yesterday afternoon, opened fire with a revolver, set fire to the house and himself died from gun shot wounds.

Potee entered the room and began firing so entirely unexpectedly that several persons were wounded before they could escape. His mother and sister-in-law were caught in the kitchen and both prisoners. Potee then locked himself in the house and fired upon all who approached. Nine persons were injured more or less seriously. Of these a brother John H. Potee, and William H. Miller, a brother-in-law, are likely to die.

COULD CHARM MONEY.

So That the Investment Would Be Sure of Returns.

Binghamton, N. Y., March 24.—"Prof. Desmond," a clairvoyant, said to be wanted in several cities under different names, and who was arrested in Glens Falls on Wednesday, was held for examination in this city yesterday on the charge of grand larceny. He is charged by Mrs. S. L. Smith, whose husband was mayor of Binghamton, with the theft of a $300 diamond ring, which she says that she let him take to charm for her.

She says that several other prominent society women of the city let him have money or jewelry. It is said that he led them to believe that he could charm money to be used for investment so as to make profits sure, or give of women who wished to win back the love of their husbands or sweethearts.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH.

Lamp Exploded and Set Clothing on Fire—Husband Was Scorched.

Malone, N. Y., March 24.—Mrs. Jane Jock, aged 47, met with a horrible and shocking death here at her home on Brewster street yesterday.

She and her husband had lived unhappily for a long time. He claimed he was in the kitchen by the fire, when he remained all night, when he heard his wife in her room and suddenly an explosion of the lamp which covered her with kerosene and flames. He gave an alarm and when help arrived the woman was burned to a crisp and died on the floor in the parlor. Coroner Oliver turned the remains over to Undertaker Nickelson.

She leaves two sons. Jock's hands were badly burned in his efforts to subdue the flames that blazed from his wife's clothing.

FOR RECOVERY OF MILLIONS.

Eight Complaints to Be Made Against McCurdy.

New York, March 24.—The first complaint in a series of eight actions to be brought by the Mutual Life Insurance company against former President Richard A. McCurdy, his son, Robert H., and the firm of Charles H. Raymond & Co., the company's former metropolitan agents, was made public yesterday.

This particular complaint is against former President McCurdy and contains nine separate causes of action. Each of these charges Mr. McCurdy with the waste of large sums of money belonging to the company through alleged unfaithfulness and neglect in the discharge of his duties.

The first five causes seek recovery in the aggregate of $292,500 as alleged contribution to political parties since Jan. 1, 1885. These contributions are stated to have been $15,000 in 1885, $35,000 in 1890, and $40,000 in 1904 to the national Republican committee, $250,000 in 1904 to the national Republican Congressional committee, and $200,000, embracing the various contributions testified by Senator Platt to have been made to the Republican state committee since Jan. 1, 1885.

Of these five causes of action, the complaint says that these payments were "unlawful and improvident," and were authorized and permitted by former President McCurdy "through want of ordinary care and diligence."

The sixth cause seeks to recover the sum of $225,000, embracing the $50,000 alleged increase of annual salary drawn by the former president since June 1, 1901, without authority, as is claimed, and under circumstances detailed in the testimony before the Armstrong committee.

The seventh cause seeks to recover $600,000 as the aggregate of the respective sums of $25,000 drawn quarterly from the company for the last six years of McCurdy's presidency on the voucher of the committee on expenditures and under circumstances detailed in the testimony before the Armstrong committee.

The eighth cause deals with the relations of Louis A. Thebaud, son-in-law of former President McCurdy, with Raymond & Co., and the "gratuities and rates of commission" received by the firm.

The final cause of action deals with the sum of $1,252,541, received by Robert N. McCurdy as commission from 1888 to November, 1905, as superintendent of foreign department, and charges that by reason of unfaithfulness and neglect by the former president these commissions had been allowed at rates which the enormous increase in the foreign business had rendered exorbitant and unnecessary.

Finally the company demands judgment against former President McCurdy for the sum of $3,370,241.66, with interest, as damages for alleged unfaithfulness and neglect.

NOT A NEW THING.

Self-cooking Apparatus Which Is Now Being Brought Out.

Northfield, March 23.—Because of the recent articles in the Boston Globe regarding the self-cooking apparatus research by many has been made regarding this subject. The articles in the Globe state that the self-cooker is a recent invention and patented by parties recently.

Prof. C. C. Brill of Norwich university states that he finds this same article was exhibited at the French exhibition in 1887, and under the department devoted to Norway. It is called the Norwegian cooking apparatus, and is of the simplest construction, being a wooden box lined with 4 inches of felt, in which the saucpan containing the food, previously boiled is placed. The heated saucpan is covered with a thick felt cover, and the lid of the box being fastened down, the rest of the cooking is done by slow digestion, no more heat being required. Food placed in the device can be retained at a high temperature for many hours. The principle upon which this cooking apparatus acts is that of retaining the heat, and it consists of a heater, or soldering apparatus shaped like a refrigerator, and of one or more saucpans or other cooking utensils made to fit it, and then with only a few minutes of boiling over the fire it is placed in the heater, and the same result is accomplished as where the food is placed over the fire constantly until cooked.

MANY HOGS KILLED.

A Collision of Stock Trains on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 24.—A serious freight wreck occurred on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad yesterday at Goshen, Ind., in which three freight trains were involved. It is reported that five trainmen were injured. An eastbound freight train containing a number of cars of livestock stopped for water and was run into by a second train, demolishing many cars and killing a large number of hogs. Some of the wrecked cars were thrown over on to the westbound track and were run into by a third freight train. The wreck is one of the most serious from a financial standpoint that the road has experienced in some time.

IN LETTER TO GOVERNORGov. Guild Says That if Matter of Commutation for the Condemned Mur-derer Comes in Proper Form
He'll Consider It.

Boston, Mass., March 24.—The governor today made public a letter recently received from Mr. and Mrs. Tucker, the parents of Chas. Tucker, now sentenced to death for killing Mabel Page. The letter asks for a commutation of sentence and says in order to give him his just dues, his pardon should be granted.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker say their son has been disgracefully and unjustly convicted of a crime of which he is entirely innocent, and that he did not have a fair and impartial trial. The governor says that when the case is presented in a formal manner he will give it most serious and conscientious consideration.

"BURLINGTON, VT." IN SWINDLE.

Name of Vermont City Used on the Pacific Coast.

Burlington, March 24.—Postmaster B. J. Derby has received the details of a successful swindling scheme which secured many victims in California with a tempting list furnished by "The New England Magazine Company of Burlington, Vt." Its alleged president is Mrs. Catherine Davis and its alleged secretary is Mrs. Helen Van Syckle. It purports to have been established in 1892. Needless to say that no such magazine agency or people have ever existed in Burlington, and so Dr. Derby has informed the California victims.

The news received by postmaster Derby was in the form of a letter from Mrs. S. E. Mergal of Los Angeles, who enclosed a clipping from a Los Angeles paper explaining the methods of the swindlers who have used the name of Burlington for their crooked schemes.

It seems that operations at Los Angeles were conducted by two men under the firm name of Hayes and Hastings, who took apartment in that city and began business as the representatives of the New England Magazine Agency of Burlington, Vt. Their scheme was to sell magazines at greatly reduced rates, and they advertised for young women to solicit orders for them offering payment of $13 per week. Fifteen women responded and they thoroughly canvassed the city, getting over 500 subscribers at from $1 to $3 apiece, the offers of such low rates being very tempting. The order blank which the victims filled out was headed by the firm's name and "Burlington, Vermont" was very conspicuous. It stated that no money was to be paid the canvassers. The latter worked hard for a week and were to go to the headquarters of Hayes and Hastings for their pay on the following Tuesday. When they went they found that both of the smooth gruffers had disappeared. It then transpired that as soon as the order blanks had been turned over to Hayes and Hastings, they had sent a collector out to get the cash for which they gave a receipt, the subscriptions to begin in March. In this way they collected about $1,300 to $1,500 in a few days with which they left town. Of course they not only swindled the fifteen women canvassers, but they also caused them much humiliation as they had obtained subscriptions from their intimate friends and acquaintances.

Among the special articles in the warning is one to see if the village will vote to bond for $25,000 on account of the new water system; to sell its real estate and water power where the old electric light plant stood and to increase the equipment of the fire department. The matter of extending the electric light line to the Center and Northfield Falls will also come up for consideration. The people at the Falls are much interested in the matter and the officers of the pace developed the fact that 500 lights would be taken at the start.

CRUELTY CHARGED.

Complaint Made Out Against Dr. H. H.
Read of Shelburne.

Burlington, March 24.—Because of representations made by Humane Agent Fuller, a complaint was made out yesterday by State's Attorney A. L. Smith, charging Dr. H. H. Read of Shelburne with cruelty to animals. This action grows out of the seizure of a horse from Dr. and Mrs. Read, the animal being killed later.

A complaint was not made out against Mrs. Read, as there was no information tending to show that she owned or was driving the horse. The warrant has not yet been served upon Dr. Read, but will be placed in the hands of an officer today and will doubtless be served before night. The case will be tried in this city.

SENIORS READ ESSAYS.

Spaulding Graduating Class Did Very Well Last Night.

The first part of the "senior exhibition" was held in the chapel at Spaulding last evening, there being a fair attendance of members and friends of the school. The programme was carried out as follows: "What to Read," Miss Annie Averill; "Advantages of a Small College," Roy Dodge; "Sidney Lanier," Miss Marcia Marden; "Roman Education," Arthur Wallace; piano solo, Miss Bessie Spear; "Some Help from Birds," Miss Grace McDonald; "Development of the Schools of Vermont," Charles Thomas; "The Aldrich Library," Mildred Phelps; "Modern Germany," Harold Robinson; music, vocal solo, Bessie Jones; "Dr. Grenier and His Works," Grace Williams; "Indebtedness of English Poets to Virgil," Max Fisher; "Problems of City Life," Agnes Marr; "John Hay," James Kendrick; music, piano solo, Miss Mildred Phelps; "Should a Girl Go to College?" Miss Stella Brooks; "Animal Intelligence," Miss Theresa Scott; "Magazines," Miss Jessie Nelson.

All the essays were remarkably well prepared and showed that a great amount of study and thought had been expended by the students on the topics given them. Owing to the fact that the class is so large only half of the members could read last evening, the other half waiting until the first Friday in the next term.

GENTLE SPRING HIDES
BEHIND OLD WINTERThermometers About Town This Morning Registered 12 Degrees Below
Zero, Which Is Unusually
Cold for March 24.

The fourth day of beautiful, gentle Spring was ushered in this morning to the music of father shooting the snail, the milkman anathematizing the weather, or man and the coal man croaking in the superlative degree of joy, unalloyed. The ground hog has not only vindicated himself, but he is heaping on more vindication every day of this extremely virile Winter. Instead of lingering in the lap of Spring, old Winter is holding Spring by the nape of the neck at arm's length, and the youngster not able to utter a protest.

On various trustworthy thermometers about town the 12 below zero mark was registered at an early hour this morning, which for the last of March is unusually severe.

Milkman John Kelly says that at 6:15 this morning the thermometer at Harry McNeill's blacksmith shop registered 22 below zero. He also says that two thermometers on Granite street registered 20 degrees below at 5 o'clock this morning and that the thermometer at his farm on west hill registered 16 degrees below at three this morning, while it has not been below 15 this winter.

22 Below at Newport.

St. Albans, March 24.—The weather report here registered from zero to 6 below. A report received from Newport says it was 22 below there.

CLAIMS HORSE WAS BALKY.

Town of Waitsfield's Defense in Its $5-000 Damage Suit.

Montpelier, March 24.—The town of Waitsfield put in its side of the matter in the suit for damages brought by Hannah J. Graves for injuries alleged to have been received because of a defective road and bridge today. Among the evidence introduced was that the horse which Mr. and Mrs. Graves were riding after the time of the accident was unruly and balky. C. M. Richardson, who was a selectman at the time, stated that he went to the Poland house, where Mr. and Mrs. Graves were taken after going down an embankment. He said that Mrs. Graves was sitting up in the kitchen and that she remarked that the accident wouldn't have happened if Mr. Graves hadn't struck the horse. Mr. Richardson further testified that Mrs. Graves walked down the steps to the carriage and started to climb over the wheel into the carriage, unassisted, until Mr. Graves told her that she had better wait.

Another point of evidence introduced was that the bridge was two feet and three inches lower at the northern end than it was at the southern, the significance of which testimony will probably become apparent when the arguments are made. Mrs. Graves sues for $5,000.
